Key West Sales Territory Analysis

Store 722 | South Region

Antonio Harrell · Capstone 1

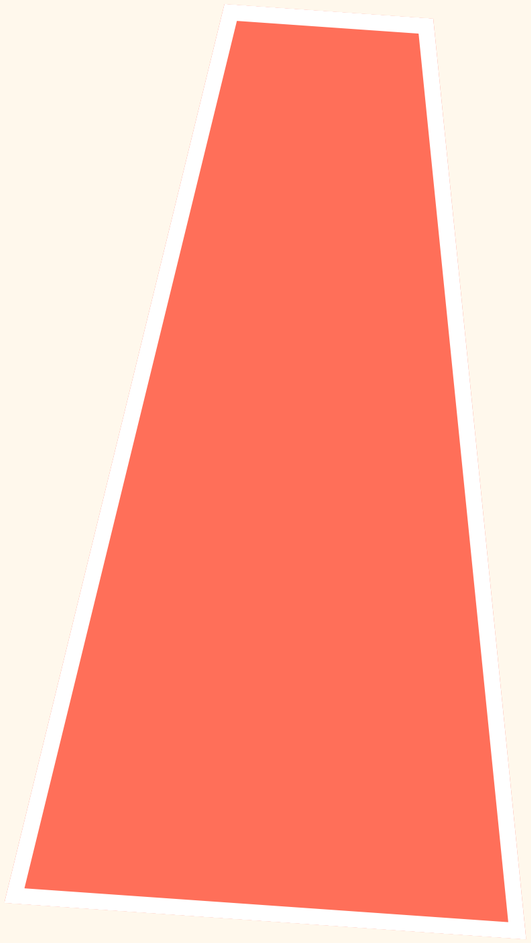

Agenda

1. Scenario
2. How We Compare
3. Key West Snapshot
4. Trends
5. Findings and Recommendations

I’m the analyst for Key West, Florida.

STORE 722 · SOUTH REGION

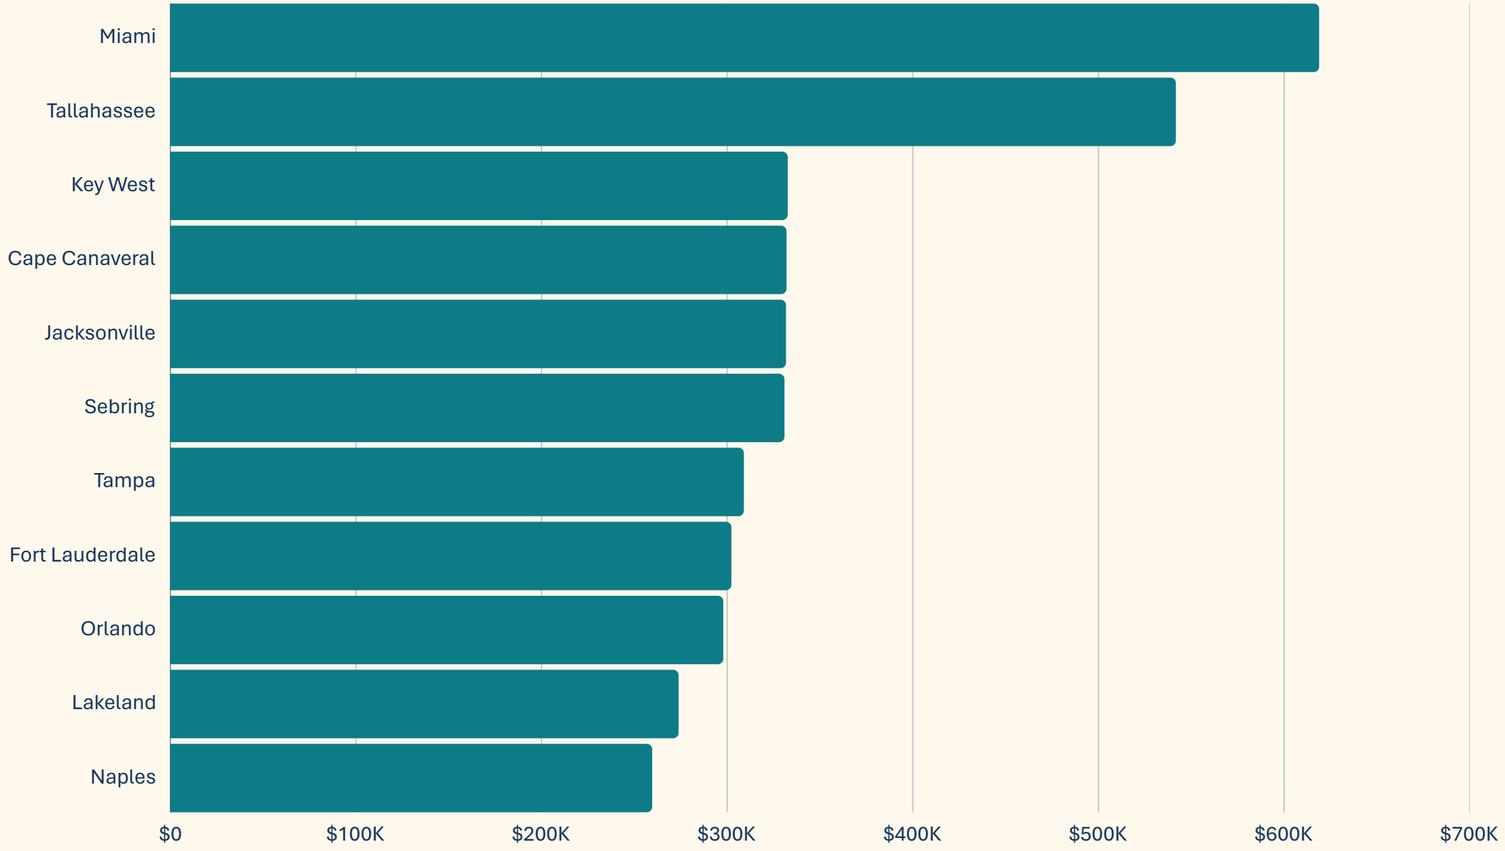

Goal: use 4 years of sales data (2022 to 2025) to decide where sales should focus next quarter.

Key West is strong in Florida — with room to grow.

$332,620
Key West revenue

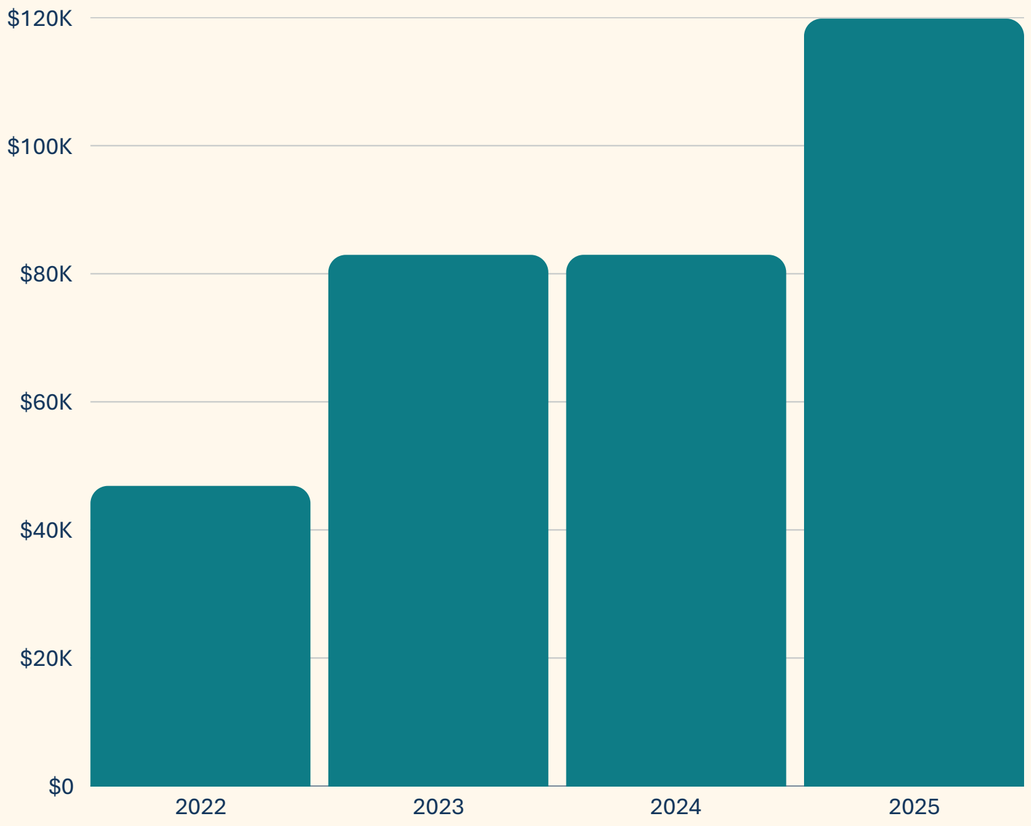

4.2%
of the South Region's $7,996,850

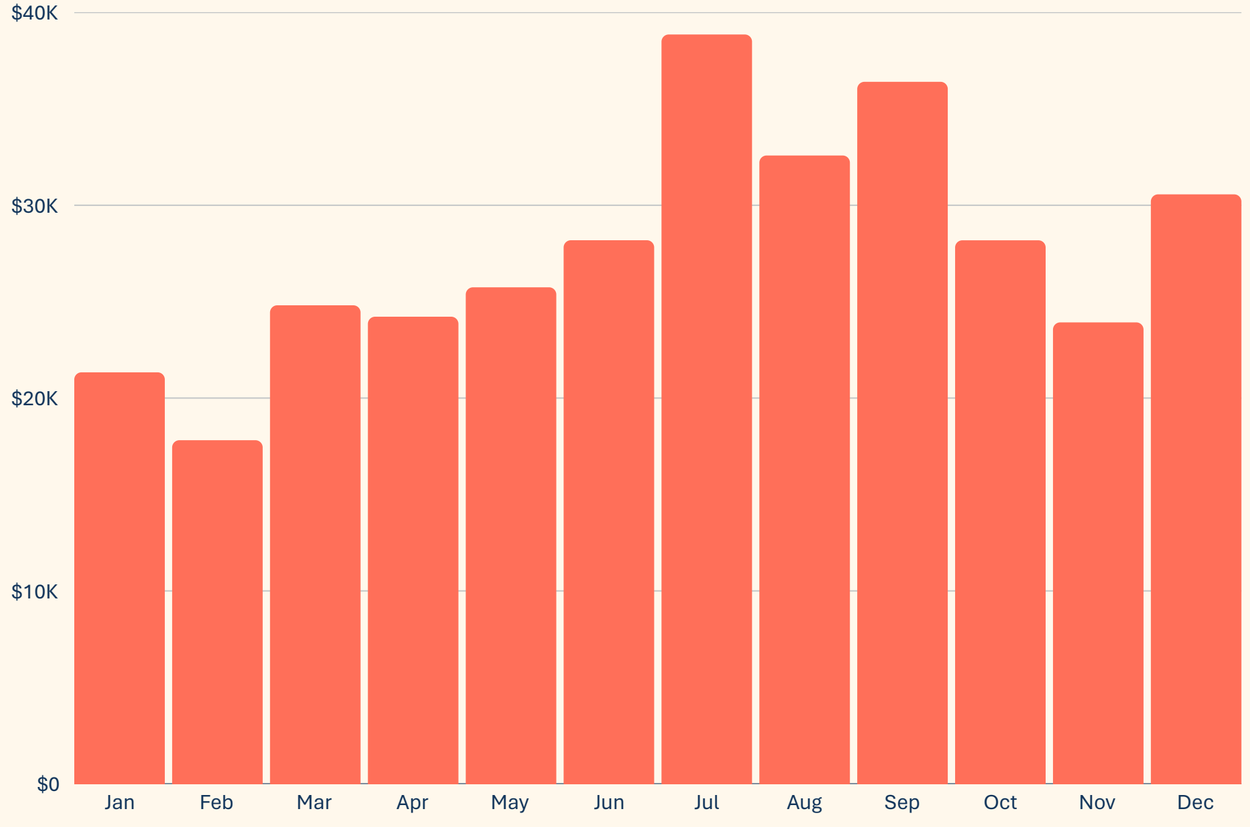

3rd of 11 in Florida · about 7% below the $357K store average

Key West growth meets clear island seasonality.

Revenue by year

Revenue by month · July peak $38,856 · February low $17,814

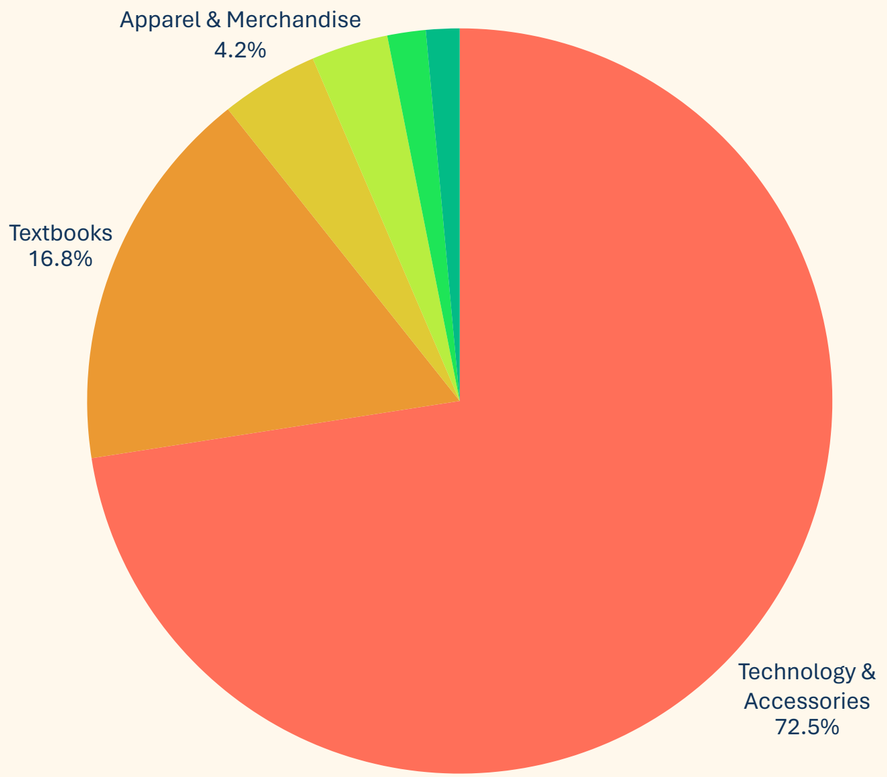

Technology & Accessories is 72.5% of Key West revenue.

$332,620
total revenue

2,228
items sold

$149
average sale

20th / 111
revenue rank

$241,297 · 72.5%

$55,781 · 16.8%

$14,086 · 4.2%

$11,080 · 3.3%

$5,537 · 1.7%

$4,840 · 1.5%

Three signals shape the next move.

Growth

+77% in 2023, flat in 2024, +44% in 2025. Revenue is 2.6x its 2022 level.

Seasonality

July to September brings in 32% of yearly revenue; February is the weakest month.

Watch out

Key West fell from 3rd in 2023 and 2024 to 7th in Florida in 2025 because other stores grew faster.

2023 and 2024 totals are nearly identical across stores; possible duplicated data.

Five moves for next quarter

1. Lead with Technology & Accessories, then Textbooks.
2. Stock up and campaign before July to September.
3. Promote in January and February to lift slow months.
4. Close the 12% gap to Florida’s 2025 average; study Tampa and Jacksonville.
5. Track quarterly revenue against the Florida average.

Small island, big upside.